July 2010

Dear Artists

An artist described that the "d'Arcy Doyles" had become an institution in the national art scene. After 6 years, its reputation continues to grow. We are always looking for ideas to help the artists and the exhibition. This year, we are adopting a charity (Paradise Kids & Hopewell Hospice). Hopefully this will broaden our scope for new art appreciation and encourage more sales of paintings.

As an incentive for the charity and sales, we propose a 5% extra commission on sold paintings going to charity, plus 5% of the usual 25% commission which goes to the Mudgeeraba Foundation, making a total of 10% going to charity. Artists should therefore workout their sale price based on a total of 30% commission. There will be a gala champagne charity opening evening.

I look forward to our local artists competing against artists now from all Australian States including The Northern Territory.

Happy Painting!
